Waratah-Wynyard Mayor Robby Walsh says mural panels planned for the Wynyard Woolworths wall will feature glimpses into the past and present.

Council is working with local designers on 17 mural panels for the wall on Goldie Street that will portray positive images of the various communities in Waratah-Wynyard.

“These panels will include colourful, bright and captivating images of the past and present that will help brighten this section of street frontage,” Mayor Walsh said.

“The blending of old and new images will include well recognised vistas from across the Municipal Area to create colourful and captivating scenes.”

The panels will be 1200mm wide and 2000mm high and are intended to include images from Waratah-Wynyard’s various towns, villages and other areas.

“Council officers have been working with the Wynyard Camera Club and the Wynyard Historical Society to get together a range of images from our own backyard,” Mayor Walsh said.

“We now invite the community to have some input into the final designs.”

Council staff will be manning an information display at Wynyard Woolworths in the coming weeks to gain feedback about the concept and to give people an opportunity to look at an example of what the panels will look like.

An example of the panel design will be available online or at Council offices. Feedback can be provided in person at Waratah-Wynyard Council offices, 21 Saunders Street, Wynyard, or Smith Street, Waratah, in writing to the General Manager PO Box 168, Wynyard Tasmania, 7325, via email to council@warwyn.tas.gov.au, via www.warwyn.tas.gov.au/yoursay, or posted onto Council's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/WaratahWynyard.
